TANKOA_T500 TETHYS

Dubbed the ‘SUV of the Seven Seas’, the T500 Tethys is the latest craft to be unveiled by Genoa-based Tankoa Yachts. Striking an effortless balance between contemporary and futuristic, this go-anywhere sub-500 GT explorer superyacht can tackle anything from a chilled-out Med cruise to a proper expedition to the higher latitudes. It also fills a gap in the yard’s range and is super-flexible – right down to the choice of traditional and hybrid diesel-electric propulsion. Milan’s Hot Lab studio penned both the interiors and the exteriors, which have versatile layout with two convertible spaces on the lower deck usable as extra accommodation, a gym, home theatre, or bar and barbecue or a whole host of other options. The T500 Tethys’s interiors will comfortably accommodate large groups in generous lounges on both decks and equally roomy staterooms. Speaking of which, the full-beam master suite on the main has a bathroom, walk-in closet and office and lounge area. There is al fresco dining and lounging on the upper deck but the stern platform is where the action is and even includes an infinity pool.
