NAUTICAL GRANDEUR

Set to launch in 2026 as a new flagship for Sirena Yachts, the Sirena 42M seamlessly merges Nordic design with a softer, more relaxed Mediterranean ambiance. Exterior and interior layouts are designed by Luca Vallebona; while the interior design is the brainchild of Hot Lab, part of The Viken Group; with naval architecture by Van Oossanen. The vessel boasts open entertaining areas, spacious external relaxation zones, a distinctive master cabin with a private patio, and a vast beach club with drop-down bulwarks. The layout can be highly customized to suit the owner's needs. Large windows enhance the connection with the outdoors, while the minimal use of lateral pillars ensures an uninterrupted panoramic view. The lower deck houses 4 guest cabins, including 2 VIP cabins with transverse beds. A wardrobe-integrated partition maximizes space efficiency, while ensuite bathrooms provide separation from the technical areas aft, such as the garage and engine room, ensuring superior sound insulation. This floating dream home is at once adaptable, meticulously designed, refined but not ostentatious, technically proficient, and effortlessly elegant; SirenaYachts.com. ↑ — Yoshi Sanz
